

Wenatchee Area Genealogical Society

recognizes

Judy Artley

of East Wenatchee, Washington for exceptional and consistent support of the goals and operation of the Wenatchee Area Genealogical Society.

Judy Artley is in charge of the library volunteers, scheduling their shifts throughout the month. Judy has spent hours indexing many books in the library. She has worked upon the Jones & Jones project, which is copying, indexing, proofing, and filing records from a local funeral home. Many books now have indexes due to her diligent work. She spearheaded the group which cleans the pioneer Richardson cabin at the Cashmere Museum twice a year. She has been a member of the board, past corresponding secretary, and is currently serving as the Society's president. As our liaison to Wenatchee Valley Museum & Cultural Center board, she makes sure we are available to assist them in their work.

Given this 15th day of June in the year 2011, at the General Meeting of Wenatchee Area Genealogical Society at East Wenatchee, Washington.

Susan Rumble
Vice President
