

Washington State Genealogical Society

recognizes

Mary Swartz

of East Wenatchee, Washington

for exceptional and consistent support of the goals and operation of the Wenatchee Area Genealogical Society

Betty Carrick and Mary Swartz have been selected by the Wenatchee Area Genealogical Society (WAGS) as their recipient of the WSGS Outstanding Volunteer Team Award. This dynamic duo made up the Total Technology Upgrade and Website Transformation Team.

Individually, these valued members of WAGS provide much to the society. Ms. Carrick is a dedicated long-time member and her exemplary database management and computer skills have enabled the society to thrive and grow.

Ms. Swartz, a member of WAGS for only a few years, is one of its most dependable volunteers and serves on the Board of Directors as Corresponding Secretary.

Acting as a team, these outstanding volunteers transformed the WAGS website, reconfigured thousands of historical data records to a standardized format, and expedited a total systemic upgrade, making WAGS's computer system far more effective, efficient and patron friendly.

Due to their teamwork, skill, dedication and tireless work on this project, they richly deserve this recognition.

Given this 27th day of June in the year 2015, at the annual meeting of the Washington State Genealogical Society at Ellensburg, Washington.
