

Washington State Genealogical Society recognizes

Lisa Atkins Vollrath

of Plain, Washington

for exceptional service to the Wenatchee Area Genealogical Society

Lisa Atkins Vollrath has been selected by the Wenatchee Area Genealogical Society (WAGS) as their recipient of a WSGS Outstanding Volunteer Award.

Lisa just naturally likes to help others with their genealogy. Even though she lives 40 miles from Wenatchee, she volunteers at the library regularly, and sometimes even comes to town for extra shifts when others have to cancel.

Her patience and accuracy are exactly what we need for our indexing projects. She works on them in the library as well as at home.

During Covid, Lisa was approached to be our recording secretary, and because of the convenience of Zoom, she accepted. Without having to travel, she is able to take minutes at the board, membership and library team meetings. She is also part of the website team.

It is with great pride and much appreciation that Lisa is recognized as an Outstanding Volunteer by the Washington State Genealogical Society and the Wenatchee Area Genealogical Society.

Given this 1st day of September in the year 2024.
